

Goldilocks and THE THREE BEARS

Retold and illustrated by Jan Brett

In

the woods

lived

3 three

bears.

1

One

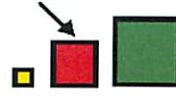

small

bear,

1

one

middle-sized

1

and

one

big

bear.

Each

bear

had a

bowl

for porridge.

1

little

for

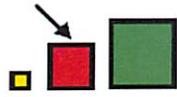

small

bear,

1

one

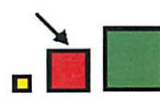

middle-sized

for

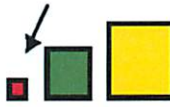

middle-sized

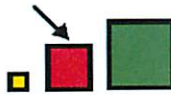

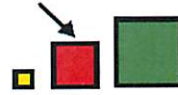

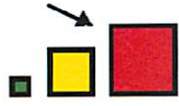

bear,

and 1 one  big  bowl for  big  bear.

 Each bear had a  chair to  sit  in.

1 One  little  chair for  small  bear,

1 one  middle-sized  chair for  middle-sized  bear, and 1 one  big  chair for  big  bear.

Each bear had a bed to sleep in.

1

bed

for

small

bear,

1

one

middle-sized

bed

for

middle-sized

bear,

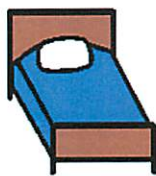

1

and

one

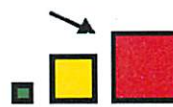

big

bed

big

bear.

After the

bears

made

their

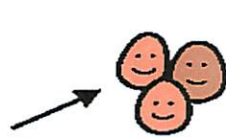

porridge

for

breakfast,

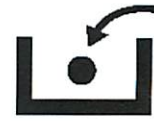

they went

for a walk in the woods,

so their

porridge

would

cool down

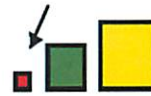

cool.

While the bears were

out,

a small

girl

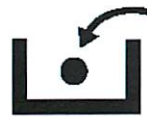

named

Goldilocks

went

the

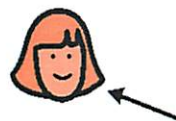

bear's

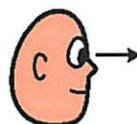

house.

First,

she looked

the

window,

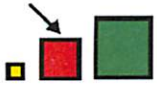

then she peeped in through the keyhole.

The door opened, and she went in.

Goldilocks tasted the big bear's porridge, but it was too hot.

Then she tasted the porridge of the

middle-sized

bear,

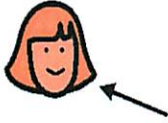

but

it

was

too

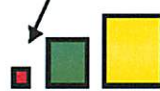

cold.

Then she

tasted

small

bear's

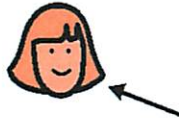

porridge,

and

it was just right.

She

ate

it

all

up.

Goldilocks

sat

the

chair

of

the

big

bear,

but

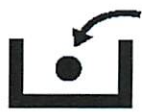

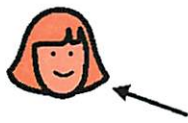

it

was

hard.

Then she sat in the chair of the

middle-sized

bear,

but

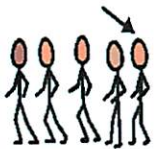

it

was

soft.

Finally

she

sat

down

in

small

bear's

chair,

and

it

just right.

As

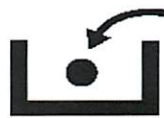

she

sat

down

the

chair,

down

came

and

it

broke.

Goldilocks

went

upstairs

to

the

bedroom.

lay

down

on

big

bear's

bed,

but

it

was

high

at

the

head

the

bed.

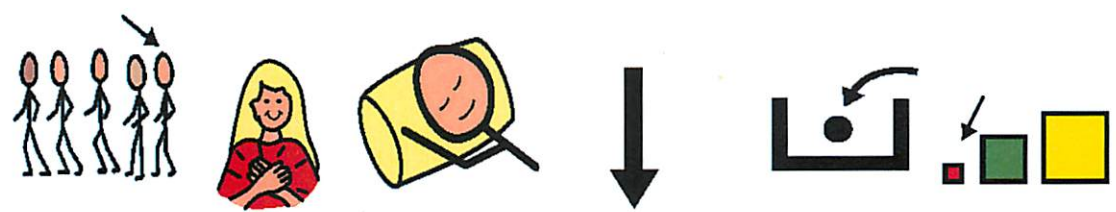

Then she lay down in middle-sized bear's bed, but it was too high at the foot of the bed.

Finally, Goldilocks lay down in small bear's bed, and it was just right. She fell asleep.

The three bears returned home for breakfast.

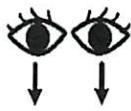

Big

saw

his

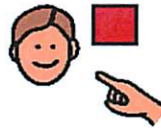

big

spoon

his

porridge.

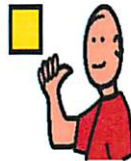

"Somebody

has been eating

my

porridge,"

said

big

bear

big

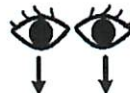

voice.

Middle-sized

in

her

porridge.

“Somebody

eating

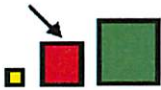

my

porridge,”

said

the middle-sized

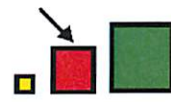

bear

in

her

middle-sized

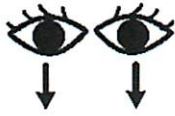

voice.

Small

his

bowl,

the

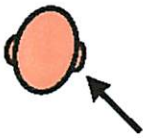

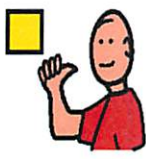

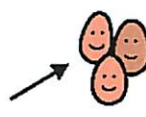

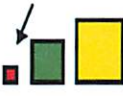

porridge

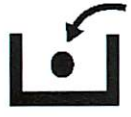

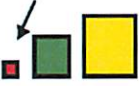

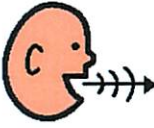

was

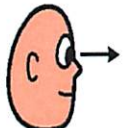

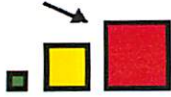

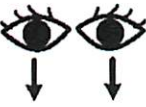

all gone.

“Somebody has eaten my porridge, but they ate it all up,” said small bear in his small voice.

The bear's looked around the house.

Big bear saw his hard cushion was not straight on his chair.

“Somebody has been sitting in my chair,” said the big bear in his big voice.

Middle-sized bear saw that her soft cushion was crumpled. “Somebody has been sitting

in

my

chair,"

middle-sized

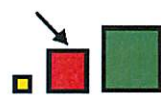

bear

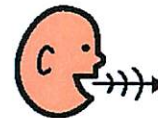

in

her

middle-sized

voice.

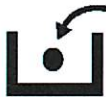

"Somebody

was sitting

in

my

chair,

said

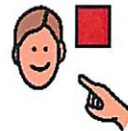

small

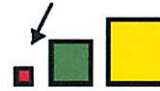

bear

small

voice.

And

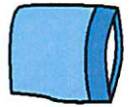

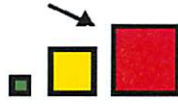

they

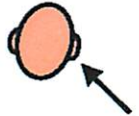

broke

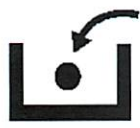

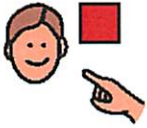

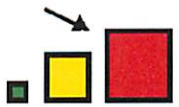

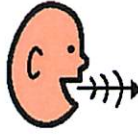

it.

The  bears went  upstairs to  their  bedroom.

Goldilocks  pulled  the  pillow  off the  big bear's  bed  "Somebody has been  lying in  my  bed," said the  big bear  in  his  big  voice.

Goldilocks

pulled

the

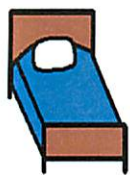

cover

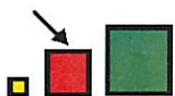

off

bed

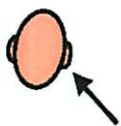

of the

middle-sized

bear.

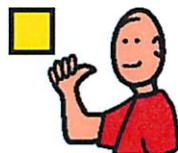

“Somebody

lying

in

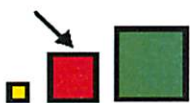

my

bed,”

middle-sized

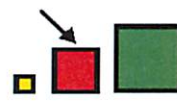

bear

in

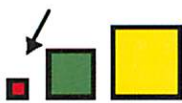

her

middle-sized

voice.

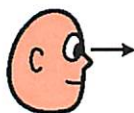

Then

small

bear

bed.

There

was

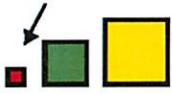

Goldilocks

sleeping

peacefully.

Small

bear

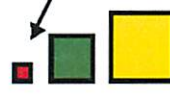

stared

her.

Small

bear

cried,

“Somebody

lying

in

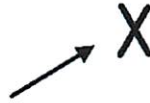

my

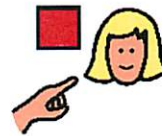

bed

and

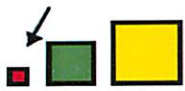

there

she

is,”

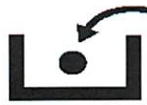

said

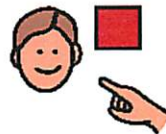

small

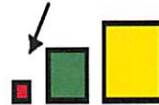

bear

small

voice.

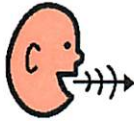

Small

bear's

woke

up

Goldilocks.

Goldilocks

was

scared

the

bears

and

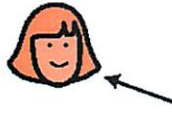

ran

the

window.

She

jumped

the

window

and

fast

she

could.

3

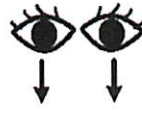

three

bears

never

Goldilocks

again.

Adapted Literature

Project

Picture # 1: Goldilocks looking in the cottage.

If the teacher has a puppet show display with a curtain in the dramatic play area, the children can practice looking through the curtain as though he/she is peeking through the window like Goldilocks. If the puppet show display is not available, the teacher can use a curtain on a rod and model how you can cup your hands around your eyes and peek around the curtain.

Picture # 2: Goldilocks brakes baby bears chair.

Teacher shows the children a small chair that represents baby bears chair. The teacher then takes a doll named Goldilocks and places her on baby bears chair. As Goldilocks sits on the chair, the chair breaks (falls over).

Picture # 3: The bears are looking at their bowls of porridge.

A small, medium and large size bowl is shown to the children. The bowls represent the bear's bowls. The teacher looks into the bowls like the three bears are in the picture.

Picture # 4: Goldilocks jumps out the cottage window and runs away.

Using the puppet show display, three stuffed bears and a doll representing Goldilocks, the teacher can demonstrate how Goldilocks jumps out the window and runs from the bears.
