AM

It is early morning.

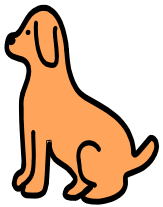

Perry

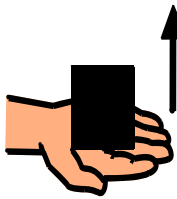

felt

Sarah .

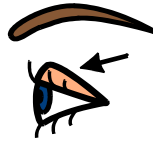

Perry

raised his sleepy eyelids.

Perry

waited for Sarah to wake up.

Sarah

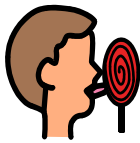

woke up.

Perry was very happy.

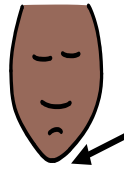

Perry

licked

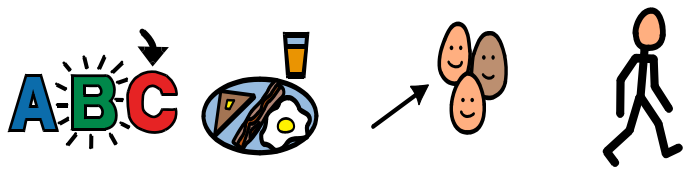

Sarah's

chin.

After breakfast they took a walk.

Sarah

buckled

his harness around

Perry.

Now Perry

was working.

Perry now had to listen to

Sarah.

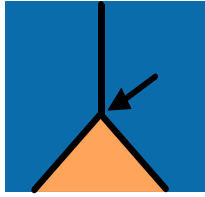

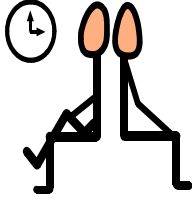

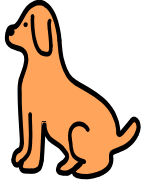

They walked down the sidewalk.

At the corner Perry stopped.

Perry waited for Sarah's instructions.

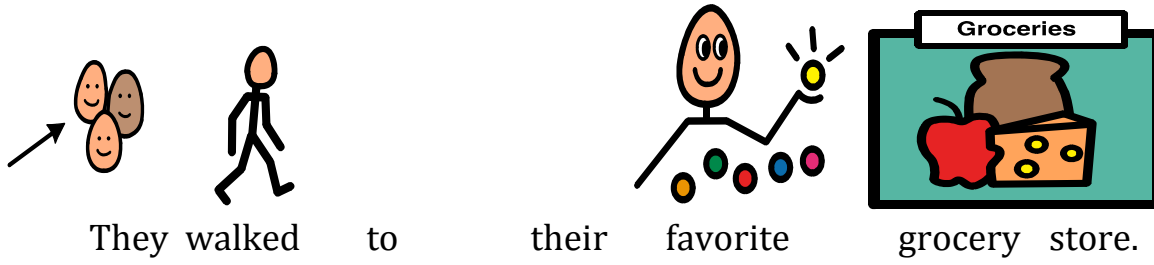

NO

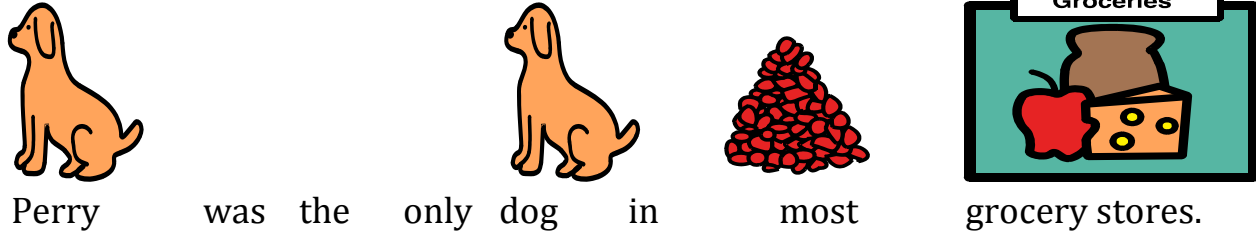

Perry made sure no cars were coming.

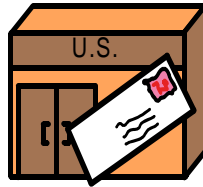

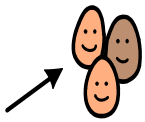

They walked to their favorite grocery store.

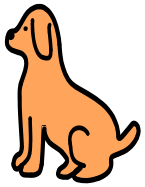

Perry was the only dog in most grocery stores.

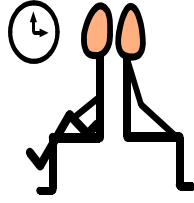

Then they went to the Post Office.

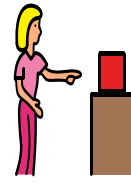

Perry

waited for Sarah to find the bottom step.

Then Perry

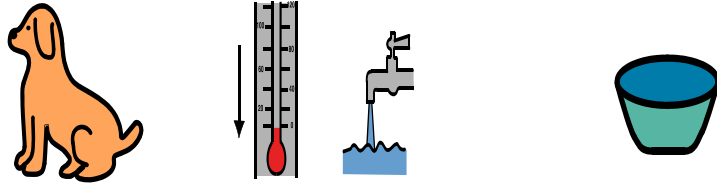

climbed up slowly.

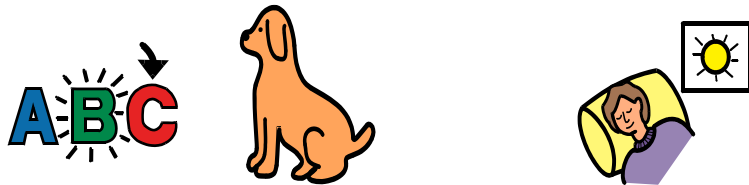

After the post office they went home.

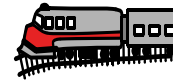

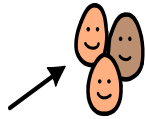

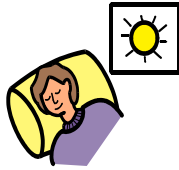

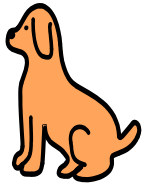

Perry drank cold water from his bowl.

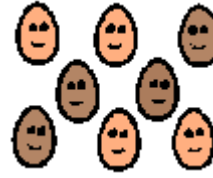

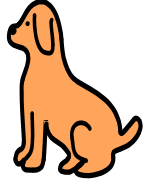

After Perry took a nap.

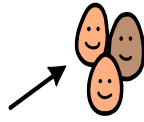

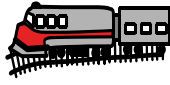

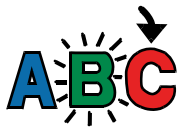

After Perry's nap they went to the train station.

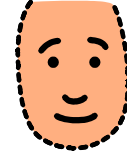

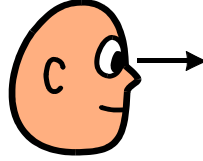

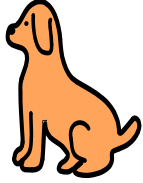

Perry carefully moved through the crowd.

After the train stopped they went to a school.

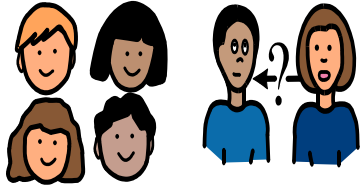

Perry was happy when he saw the children's faces.

Sarah sang a song about Perry to the children.

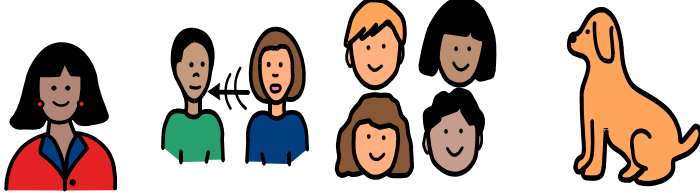

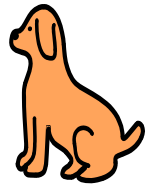

The children asked

Sarah

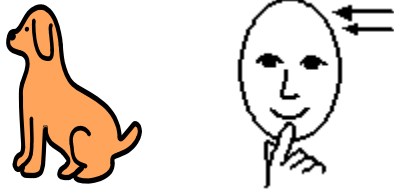

many questions about Perry.

She told them that Perry

199_

was seven years old.

Also that he was trained at a guide dog school.

Sarah showed a photo album of Perry.

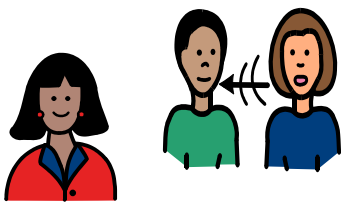

Sarah told the children it was okay to pet Perry now.

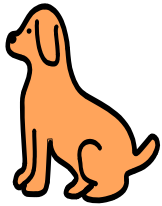

He was not working.

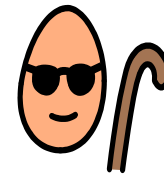

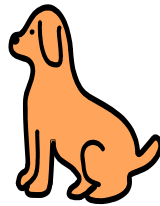

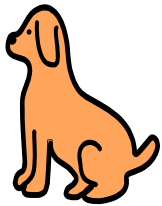

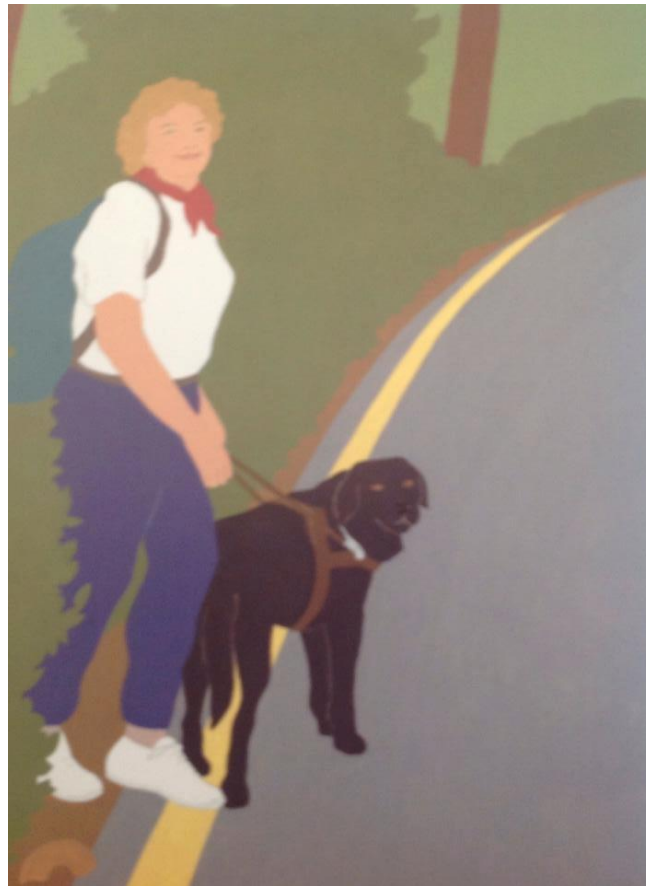

Sarah told the children about an adventure.

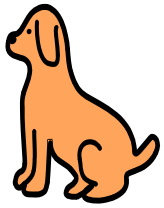

Perry and Sarah walked all the way to New York.

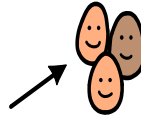

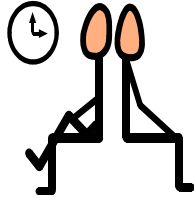

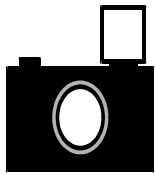

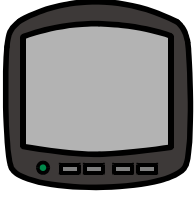

Perry showed what a guide dog can do for a blind person.

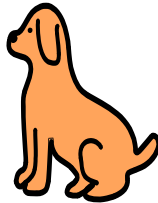

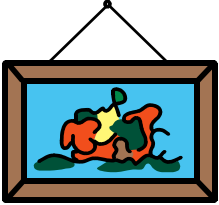

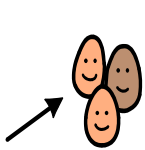

Perry and Sarah made it to New York.

Television cameras waited for them and took pictures of Perry.

They both won a medal.

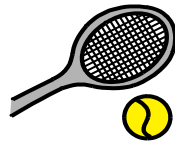

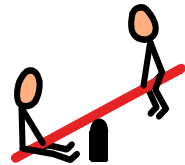

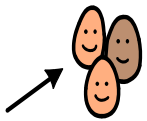

After their school visit Perry had a play session.

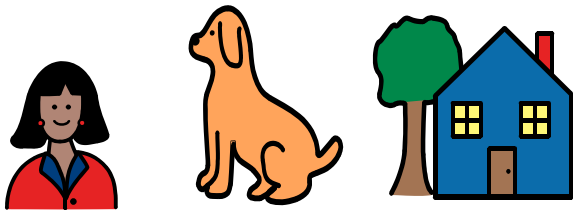

Sarah removed his harness.

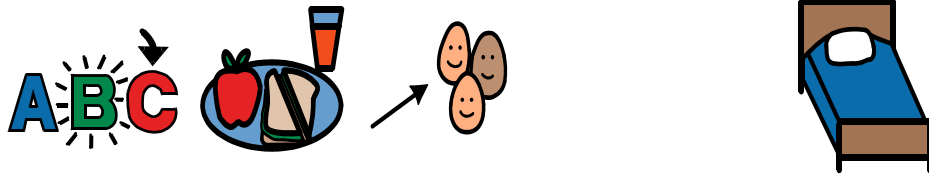

They played with a tennis ball.
